To Whom It May Concern:

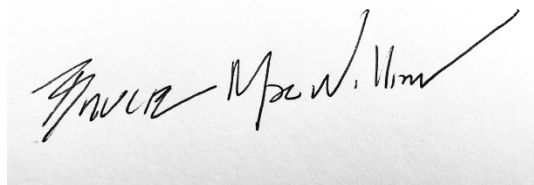

Natalie Pluto was a filmmaking student of mine at New York Film Academy for several semesters. I can honestly say she is a great young filmmaker, and one of the very best students I have ever taught.

Natalie is a talented young filmmaker that brings vast knowledge and skills to any film set. She is creative, intelligent, and she thinks outside the box.

Natalie is also a great team player, and she collaborates well with her crew. She has a good sense of humor, and she is fun to have as a part of any film crew. She elevates any film crew with her warm personality and exceptional leadership skills.

I highly recommend Natalie as a young filmmaker with enormous potential!

Sincerely,
